Hoodlum Rubout Hints Mob War

Racketeer Bioff Blasted To Death In Gangland-Style Auto Explosion

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A powerful automobile bomb blasted racketeer Willie Bioff to his death Friday in Phoenix, Ariz., in a gangland-style rubout that had overtones of an East-West mobster war.

A terrific explosion blew Bioff apart when he stepped on the starter of his pickup truck in the garage of his $40,000 home. The 55-year-old hoodlum's body was hurled 25 feet and wreckage was strewn 300 yards around.

Both of Bioff's legs were blown off and his right hand was severed. The mangled remains were identified by his wife, with whom he had been living quietly in the swanky northeast Phoenix neighborhood for the last seven years under the alias of William Nelson.

Shake Down
Bioff had last hit the headlines in 1941 when he was convicted of trying to shake down movie producers in New York and Hollywood for $1,000,000 by threatening a nationwide strike of theatrical employees to tie up the industry.

The killing may have been another eruption of the mobster schemings that punctuated his life. There has been considerable talk in the Arizona underworld that Eastern mobs have been trying to move in and set up Las Vegas-type operations in Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., using respectable citizens, even prominent ones, as fronts.

Much of the talk has linked the Detroit, Mich., "Purple Gang" with present activity in Arizona.

Bioff was a West Coast labor racketeer in 1941 when he and George Browne were found guilty of the fantastic plot to extort "insurance" money from film producers under threat of work stoppages.

Browne was president of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees.

Bioff and Browne wangled light sentences by turning government witnesses, helping send to prison five Chicago henchmen of the late crime czar Al Capone.

(In Chicago, informants whispered that Bioff came out of the deal with "plenty of money—that boys were waiting 'til time was ripe to finish him and get the money, too.")

(Time apparently ran out. The Chicago American reported that only Thursday Bioff had been allowed to buy an interest in a Reno, Nev., gambling resort, supposedly controlled by a West Coast mob.

During the trial of Bioff and Browne held in New York, there were sensational charges that the two had accepted payoffs from heads of the big film studios as "insurance" not to call strikes.

Bioff was sentenced to 10 years in prison and a $20,000 fine and Browne drew an eight year term, plus a $20,000 fine. Both were released after three years because they had supplied information which helped convict several Mafia leaders considered to be the real powers behind the plot.

There was no positive proof that the blowup Friday was caused by a bomb, but the size of the explosion left little doubt that a typical gangland rubout method had been used to kill Bioff.

Not much of the truck was left to examine. The explosion rocked the entire northeast side of Phoenix.

MOLOTOV WILL FLY HOME

...Envoy Seeks New Orders

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov rebuffed Friday night a new Western proposal to begin reunification of Germany by nationwide elections next September. He will fly to Moscow Saturday—possibly to receive new instructions.

The 65-year-old diplomat's disclosure that he will make a round trip to the Soviet capital during a three-day recess of the Geneva conference stirred immediate speculation that he may come back with revised ideas on the deadlocked German problem.

He turned down the West's newest German unification plan at Friday's Big Four session mainly on the ground it made no provision for European security. He promised he would "naturally study it carefully" and comment on it again next Tuesday.

It would be a normal thing for Molotov to fly back to Moscow at this time, to take part in the big annual celebration Sunday night on the eve of the October Revolution anniversary. It also, however, affords a convenient excuse for conferences with the rest of the Soviet collective leadership.

Since he publicly apologized recently for Communist ideological errors, Molotov has been the target of rumors that he is on the way out as foreign minister. He has given no hint here that he may soon be ousted.

Western diplomatic sources said, however, that Molotov has appeared to be under rigid orders from Moscow, which allow him no room for maneuver in rejecting German unification. With 70 million divided Germans certain to blame bitterly the cold war side which denies their national aspirations, Molotov has been on a tough spot at Geneva.

Molotov repeated Friday his demand that the Communist East German government and the West German government be called in to discuss the reunification problem with the Big Four foreign ministers. He said the new Western unification plan, presented by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, "failed to conform" to the foreign ministers' directive from the summit conference last July.

West Plan

Submitted on the "joint initiative" of the three Western Powers and the Bonn Republic, the reunification proposal stated:

"1. Free and secret elections shall be held throughout Germany during September 1956, for the selection of representatives for an all-German National Assembly to draft a constitution and to form a government thereunder for a reunified Germany.

"2. Each of the four powers will designate a representative to a commission to prepare, in consultation with German experts, the electoral law for such elections, including effective provisions for safeguards and supervision to insure the freedom of such elections.

"3. The commission shall undertake its functions promptly and shall submit its report to the four powers by January 1956."

Base Airmen Pay $5,194 In Traffic Fines In October

Lincoln Air Force Base airmen were cautioned by the base's newspaper Friday:

"If you speed you are going to pay for it."

The publication reported that 275 men paid a total of $5,194.60 in traffic fines and costs in October alone.

Since June, when 60 Lincoln AFB airmen paid $750 in fines, the trend has been sharply upward, with the biggest jump coming in September when the new state law increasing the penalty went into effect.

BEATRICE, Neb. — An 80-year-old Crab Orchard man was killed and six other persons, including one from Lincoln, hospitalized as a result of a two-car collision Friday night three miles east of Filley on a stretch often referred to as "cemetery road."

The dead man was identified by County Sheriff Ned Maxwell as Oscar Sanders, 80, of Crab Orchard, a passenger in a car driven by his son, Arthur Sanders of Lewiston. The driver was not hospitalized, but his sister, Miss Pearl Sanders, also of Lewiston, is in Lutheran Hospital in Beatrice suffering multiple cuts and bruises.

Also hospitalized were four members of the Bennet High School football team and their coach, Wayne Lubke, of 1134 Charleston in Lincoln. One of the youths, Ronnie Leader, 15, was reported in critical condition in Mennonite Hospital.

Lubke Driver

Kenneth Westphal, 16, was listed in serious condition at Mennonite Hospital. Others at the Lutheran Hospital were Coach Lubke, Philip Meyers, 15, and John Stone, 16, all suffering with multiple cuts and bruises. The youths were passengers in the car driven by Coach Lubke.

Another member of the football team, Ronnie Ringland, 14, escaped injury and was returned to Bennet by his parents.

Sheriff Maxwell said the two cars collided at a gravel road intersection. Both cars were badly damaged.

The coach and players were enroute home from a game with Lewiston.

Rev. Canfield Of Emerald Pen Chaplain

A 34-year-old Emerald minister, the Rev. Richard M. Canfield, has been appointed Institutional Chaplain at the Nebraska Penitentiary, Warden Joseph Bovey announced Friday.

The announcement was made in a news release which outlined the prison religious program.

The Rev. Mr. Canfield will fill the position left vacant when the Rev. Robert Rudell became associate warden last month.

Born at Chester, Neb., the Rev. Canfield attended high school there. He attended Kansas State College and graduated in 1945 from Wheaton College in Illinois with a bachelor's degree in Anthropology. He attended Northern Baptist Theological Seminary at Chicago, graduating in 1948.

The Rev. Mr. Canfield served for two years as assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church at Aurora, Ill., and pastor of First Baptist Church at Maxwell, Neb., for three years.

Outlining the prison religious program, Bovey's statement said the Penitentiary had "a well-developed religious program" with a part-time Lutheran pastor and a part-time Catholic chaplain on the staff in addition to the Rev. Mr. Canfield.

Bovey said a program of character guidance, patterned after that used in New York, was in preparation and will be put into operation soon.

He added, ministers were encouraged to visit inmates of their faiths. Ministers are notified, he said, by letters from the prison's classification board, which encourages the minister to contact the inmate.

Bovey also praised the work done by the Salvation Army. Every third Sunday the Salvation Army holds services for all the inmates and assists men through its social service center in Omaha.

Groups from Lincoln, Omaha, Auburn, York, Columbus and Fremont also conduct a program for Alcoholics, Bovey said in his statement.

High School Journalists Pick Graham President

Ralf Graham, journalism adviser at Fairbury High School, Friday night was named to succeed Mrs. Florence Barta of Nebraska City as president of the Nebraska High School Press Association.

Other officers, introduced at the association's annual convention banquet at the University of Nebraska Student Union, were Mrs. Ellen Pearey, Omaha North, vice president; Mrs. Eunice Mansfield, Lincoln Northeast, treasurer; and Helen Lewis, Hastings, secretary.

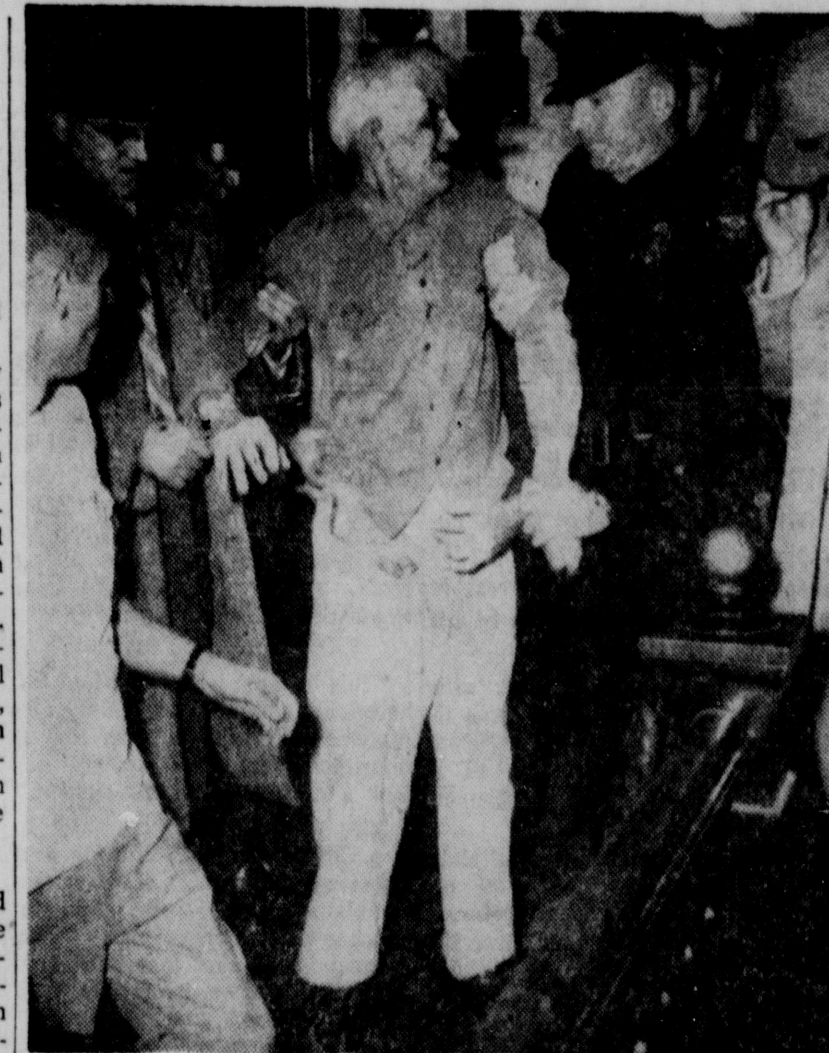

The banquet speaker was Dr. Walter Beggs, chairman of the University Council for Community Study, who told the high schoolers that the great crux of this culture is that people sell themselves short. He said it is their responsibility to find their strength in all areas and to live up to their potential.

He had asked the students to take a test in which they would state their name, age, address, the time and their strong points. He told them it would take all their lives to find the answers.

A name, he said, is a "lot more than a monicker." He reminded them of the importance of earning a good name.

Age is also a big factor in a person's life, he said.

"Your age," Dr. Beggs told

Gasping and bleeding, Ignatius Herlein, 71, is held by police after he was subdued in a 15-minute maneuver by 30 patrolmen and two fire companies in the wake of a shooting at a Denver hotel. Police said Herlein shot another roomer, John T. Olna, 48, then barricaded himself in his room, armed with a rifle and defied efforts of police to get him to surrender. He was cut by flying glass as police broke a window to fire tear gas into the room. (AP Wirephoto.)

Mrs. Smith Is Acquitted In Hubby's Bomb Slaying

McMINNVILLE, Ore. (AP) — Mrs. Marjorie Smith, a mother of two children, had nothing to do with the dynamite murder of her husband, a Circuit Court jury decided here Friday.

The jury, made up of nine women and three men chosen from this rural district, acquitted Mrs. Smith, 34, of first degree murder. Deliberations extended over three days, and took more than 15 hours. The vote was 10 to 2.

Mrs. Smith, married four times, twice to the man whose death she was accused of plotting, sobbed with joy and relief at the verdict.

"All through this ordeal I have kept faith in God and I know they could find nothing but a verdict of not guilty," she said through her tears.

Thanks Jury

"I am very happy," she said after thanking each juror individually.

She embraced her 83-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Anna Witterin, who stood staunchly at Mrs. Smith's side during the week-long trial.

Tears welled from the eyes of the defense attorney, Bruce Spaulding, too.

"Marjorie and I have prayed together," he said.

Egypt Gets Arms

... By Shipload

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has summoned the Egyptian and Israeli ambassadors to meetings Saturday to discuss the tense Middle East situation with Asst. Secretary George Allen.

The meetings have been called as part of the State Department's urgent moves to keep the fighting between Egyptian and Israeli forces from exploding into a full scale war.

In announcing the move, the State Department said that at first it had tried to schedule late evening meetings. It gave this effort up for unexplained reasons.

Israel's ambassador, Abba Eban, who returned Friday night from consultations with his government, will meet first with Allen at 10 a.m. EST. Egyptian Ambassador Ahmed Hussein is scheduled to see Allen one hour later. Allen is the State Department's specialist in Middle Eastern affairs.

Statement Expected
At the conclusion of the two meetings, the department is expected to make public some word of what Allen told the two envoys.

Allen returned two weeks ago from an emergency meeting with Egyptian Premier Nasser after Egypt announced it had decided to buy weapons from the Communists bloc.

A State Department spokesman had said earlier that this country did not plan anything comparable to the British appeal Thursday to Egypt and Israel. The British Foreign Office called in representatives of both countries to urge restraint.

The spokesman said the United States was counting heavily on the good offices of the United Nations to lessen tension in the Middle East.

The State Department also informed newsmen Friday that the Soviet bloc is delivering arms to Egypt by the shipload, together with military technicians.

Silence Broken
Statements by press officer Lincoln White broke the department's long official silence on a variety of reports that the Communists had lost no time in carrying out their cannon-for-cotton deal with Egypt.

In response to news conference questions, White said he could supply no details on the amount or kinds of arms. But he said the department's information was that "several shiploads" had arrived.

As to technicians, again he had no details. However, he said the department had information that such experts—either Russian or Czechs—were on the scene.

U.S. And Russia Agree On Clergymen Exchange

Six-Month Deadlock Is Ended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Friday announced agreement with Russia on an exchange of clergymen to tend the spiritual needs of Americans in the Soviet Union and Russians in the United States.

The agreement is strictly reciprocal.

The Rev. Louis F. Dion, a Roman Catholic priest, will go to Moscow.

Archbishop Boris of the Russian Orthodox Church will come to the United States.

Neither of their entry visas carries a termination date so they can stay as long as the two governments are willing to let them.

The announcement ends a six-month deadlock. Father Dion's predecessor, the Rev. Georges Bissonnette, was ejected from Russia last March after Archbishop Boris was given his walking papers by the United States.

The Russian prelate had to go home after his 60-day visitor's permit ran out and the State Department refused to extend it. Father Bissonnette was ejected shortly thereafter.

The State Department complained last June, in a note to Moscow, that the ouster obviously was in retaliation. It argued that this was a violation of the 1933 agreement under which the United States formally recognized Russia's Communist regime.

Also it said the Bissonnette and Boris cases were not similar. Officials have explained that they considered the Russian Church, of which Archbishop Boris is a prelate, to be serving political aims of the Soviet government.

The State Department said Father Bissonnette was forced to carry out his duties in the confines of his small apartment in Moscow whereas Archbishop Boris had been free to travel within the United States and hold services in several churches.

Niklaus Seeking $33,584 For City In Another Suit

William Niklaus has filed another taxpayer's suit seeking to recover $33,584.95 plus interest in Lancaster District Court on behalf of the city of Lincoln.

His suit alleges a contract "with the face value of $32,272" was illegally awarded to Dobson and Robinson for the construction of a water feeder main on A between 32nd and 40th.

Niklaus contends city officials illegally disbursed $33,584.95 on the contract and that a performance bond issued by the Universal Surety Company, one of the defendants, as a "nudum pactum," without force.

Other defendants named are Arthur A. Dobson and Gale G. Robinson as partners and Mayor Clark Jeary.

Similar suits brought by Niklaus, a Lincoln resident and former attorney, are pending in court.

Actor Barry's Home Scene Of Fight

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A blonde actress who says she was clobbered with a clothes brush by pajama-clad Susan Hayward in a bedroom fight at actor Donald Barry's home requested a battery complaint Friday.

Jill Jarmyn, 23, who once was Barry's girl friend, found a back door of his house open and wandered in to find Miss Hayward, 34, cosily ensconced in the bedroom wearing polka dot pajamas, she told reporters and a city attorney's representative.

She alleged that the red haired actress, who has been dating Barry recently, made an "unprovoked assault" upon her resulting in whacks on the head, a bitten thumb, buttons torn from her blouse and a bruise on her leg when she fell over a coffee table.

Detective Pat Kealy, who investigated after the ruckus, said Miss Jarmyn related that she first saw Miss Hayward in the dining room. However, Kealy said Miss Hayward Friday told him:

"It Infuriated Me"

"This blonde girl walked into the house and into the bedroom. She made an insulting remark and it infuriated me. I went toward her and a wrestling match ensued."

Miss Jarmyn told her story to Dep. City Atty. Dan Whiteside and Stephen R. Powers. However, no complaint was issued. Another hearing was arranged for Nov. 16, when it is expected that Miss Jarmyn, Miss Hayward and Barry all will be present.

Police and studio sources gave this rundown on the affair:

Miss Jarmyn, formerly of Chicago, appears to have come off second best. She said she was hit on the head with a wooden clothes brush, her thumb was bitten and buttons were torn from her blouse.

Coffee Break

The scene was the North Hollywood home of Barry. Miss Hayward, 34, who has been dating Barry recently, was having coffee with him when Miss Jarmyn walked in, the door being open. She had known Barry for about five months but told a reporter that they had had a dispute and ended a budding romance.

When Miss Jarmyn arrived, Miss Hayward evidently said something to the customary effect of "who is this woman?" and in practically no time a fight was on, with Barry attempting the role of peacemaker. His comment Friday was "No comment."

Phones The Cops

Miss Jarmyn subsequently went home and telephoned Van Nuys police, who began rounding up the versions of all parties.

Miss Hayward, whose divorce from Jess Barker after a sensational trial is being appealed by Barker, described the whole thing as "a tempest in a very small teapot." In a statement issued through her studio she said: "The girl came in while we were having coffee. She made some insulting remarks. I lost my temper and I'm very sorry. I'm sure she isn't hurt."

Fell Over Table

Police Lt. Ernest Johnston said officers who talked to Miss Jarmyn said she told them she also bruised her leg when she fell over a coffee table. He said the officers detected no outward sign of physical injury but noticed buttons had been torn from Miss Jarmyn's blouse.

The lieutenant said he informed Miss Jarmyn that if she wished to file a complaint she should take it up with the city attorney's office.

80 Students From 5 Schools Attend 5th Social Work Day

The program was sponsored by the Committee for the Training and Education for Social Work. Dr. Garnet Larson, faculty member with the University of Nebraska School of Social Work, is chairman of the committee.

Richard Guilford, director of the School of Social Work, said the program is planned and presented by social workers in the community to show students interested in going into social work just what modern social work is all about. "We find that a lot of people in college do not really know what it is like, because of the broad application of social work today," Guilford explained.

Benson 'Happy' To Study Weaver Farm Price Plan

Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) said Friday Agriculture Secretary Benson told him in Washington this week he would be happy to submit Weaver's farm plan to officials within the Agriculture Department for study and consideration.

The congressman has authored a plan under which prices would be rolled back on items the farmer has to buy, with a view to dropping them to a level consistent with the prices the farmer receives for what he sells.

The Government would pay retailers the difference between the going price and the rolled-back price.

Rep. Weaver met with Benson in Washington Wednesday to discuss the farm situation.

In a statement Friday telling about the meeting, Rep. Weaver said Benson indicated that because of Weaver's "intense interest" in agricultural problems, it would be advantageous if he could become a member of the House Agriculture Committee.

4 OF 10 TOUGH CONVICTS ARE RECAPTURED

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Four of 10 tough inmates who tunneled out Thursday night in the largest mass escape in the history of the trouble-plagued Washington State Penitentiary were recaptured Friday after about 17 hours freedom.

An alert farmer living in the sparsely-settled wheat growing country 20 miles north of here found tracks showing the four apparently spent the night in one of his outbuildings. His barking dogs had awakened him during the night.

An armed posse, quickly summoned after daybreak, found the four convicts walking along a railroad track near a brushy area, apparently headed for the desolate Snake River region. They were returned to prison.

Samuel Freeman Files For Congress

Spirit Of Geneva

There was still time for a revival of the friendliness and good will so evident at the Big Four Summit conference held in Geneva last July. But the longer the foreign ministers of the Big Four keep at it, the less likelihood there is of agreement between Russia and the western powers.

Apparently the world placed a great deal more significance upon what it calls the "spirit of Geneva" than was justified. Developments since then have been anything but of a character to instill confidence in the men in the Kremlin. Russia, it appears, does not intend to do anything of a concrete character to bring about the unification of Germany through free elections.

Close To The Food Source

The Beatrice community has revealed that it has acquired a new industry—one that ultimately will employ 200 people. With increasing frequency such announcements are emanating from Nebraska communities.

It cannot be said that the dispersion of industry has caught Nebraska in a tidal wave, but certainly encouraging progress is to be noted in the efforts of town leaders and the Nebraska Resources Division to build up a wave.

Nebraska, essentially an agricultural community, will never lose sight of the importance of progress and development in that field, but it agrees that a better agriculture requires more domestic consumers and the arrival of industry

A Case Of Mixed Signals

While such exchanges as pass between Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Nebraska Congressmen Jackson B. Chase and Phil Weaver are characterized by political fraternalism, it is becoming more and more obvious that there is not a true meeting of minds there on what is the true Republican faith.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It seems to have become settled policy at some of the institutions under the Nebraska State Board of Control to get while the getting's good when it comes to increasing the number of employees and salaries paid those employees. At the close of this current biennium, we are confident that Nebraskans will find they have more jobholders and that they are paying higher salaries than at any time in the history of the state.

Latest spender to be heard from is State Penal Director B. B. Albert, a relative newcomer to Nebraska, who may not have been here long enough to soak up some of the state's ideas of thrift. Penal Director Albert thinks it would be a swell idea to have a full-time psychologist devoting all of his attention and energies to the penitentiary and the reformatory. Maybe it would. But the cold blunt truth is that in recent months the Board of Control seems to have embarked upon a spending spree quite foreign to previous conceptions of institutional administration. At some of the institutions it has been adding additional help and increasing salaries substantially. It has been embarked upon a policy with the result that staff additions, coupled with salary increases, may hike operating costs to an all-time peak. This may be offset partially if the months ahead reveal a drop in food prices and in other items affecting institutional costs. And, all of this has been taking place while farm income is down. In the first 10 months of 1955, farm income in this state was $70 million under that for the same period of time in 1954. Normally it has been Nebraska tradition to tighten the pursestrings when there is decline in farm income. But the Board of Control has been shelling out more money since the start of the new biennium than any board has heretofore in adding to the number of employees and in raising the salaries of those now in the employ of the state.

The sharpest criticism to be directed against the board is that it is taking these steps without taking the people who pay the bill into its confidence. It may add a psychologist here or a psychiatrist at some other institution, and it may add to the aides and assistants, but it makes no pretense of informing the people of Nebraska of the added financial burden falling to them as a result of the changes.

If the present administration has become so indifferent to mounting institutional costs, then the time has come for a change. The Board of Control, it is true, is an independent agency. It is not required to report to the governor upon its day-by-day operation. But the Board of Control is accountable to the governor to the extent that it is the governor who submits a budget to the Legislature and those recommendations by the governor have a very important bearing upon the final decisions of the legislative appropriations committee. We predict now that the close of 1955 will find the payrolls at some of the institutions under the Board of Control higher than at any other time in the history of the state. We think that circumstances will reveal that penitentiary costs—possibly the costs of some of the mental institutions—have soared until even in the event of an emergency, it would be extremely difficult to bring them back into line again.

The board owes it to the people of a state to set forth what the cost of institutional operation will be when all of the contemplated changes have been completed.

Thrift Center

When an ex-Nebraska convict remarked that veritable fortunes are being concealed by the inmates it brought a storm of official denials. But there were more outsiders who picked up their ears and said, "Tell us more." Can it be that there actually is a place now-a-days where a thrifty man can actually build up a pile? Most of us have tried every other locale with no luck at all. Maybe Nebraska's budgeting problem could be solved by switching headquarters, putting the treasury out at Lancaster and housing that place's inmates in the capitol.

Actually Sen. Knowland and some of those who have taken Russia's smile with a grain of salt hold all the advantage over those more inclined to give Russia full credit for a complete change in heart. On the basis of developments during the meetings of the prime ministers, Russia has been no more co-operative than traditionally. All that we can say up to now is that Moscow has apparently been playing us for suckers.

The "spirit of Geneva" was heartwarming until it was put to the acid test. We now see it as treacherous and as disillusioning as the Russians have been at all times.

provides those consumers.

Indeed, it would benefit the nation to catch the picture more clearly, as Nebraska has caught it, that stability and economic well-being require a levelling of population and services. It is socially and economically unsound to build vertical cities and industries too far removed from the source of food. It is equally dangerous politically to have deep differences of interest.

Perhaps at one time the new agricultural states were not far enough developed to support the populations demanded by a well-balanced society. Put today the food-producing sections can support a greater population than they enjoy. The quicker they get the added people, the better off the nation will be.

Not long ago Rep. Weaver made public a suggestion to sell agricultural implements and perhaps other cost items to the farmer at less than the market in a fashion that the government would pick up the check for the difference so that the seller would not suffer. It was Weaver's way to soften the price-cost squeeze presently assailing the farmer.

Under cool scrutiny the Weaver plan is no less than an applied principle of the 100 per cent price support to dealers with the farmer getting the indirect benefit. It happens that Mr. Benson has brought a great deal of wrath down upon his unbow-d head because he is emphatically opposed to 100 per cent parity, indeed to anything that smacks of fixed high price supports.

Now comes Rep. Chase with the observation that "the more bushels a farmer must raise in order to get enough dollars to pay his bills . . . the more he will try to raise." He added, so the press dispatches say, "to reduce surplus it is necessary to regulate bushel production rather than price."

One recalls that one of the administration's cardinal claims for lowered price supports was that it would discourage planting and therefore achieve lower production. It was the sharp critics of Mr. Benson who said what Chase is now politely saying.

These differences of opinion within the Republican party between lawmakers and their agriculture secretary seem to emphasize that either the party had better get into a huddle and come out with the same signal or it had better get a new official concept of the agricultural remedy. Of the alternatives the fading farmer, of course, would prefer the latter. It is not the doctors who are ill in this case. It is he.

Today's One Hoss Shay

(From The St. Louis Post Dispatch)

The automobile, the airplane and the atom have swept along so swiftly that it seems a far cry indeed to the horse-and-buggy age. Yet this week is only the centennial of that fateful "first of November, 'fifty-five" when, according to Oliver Wendell Holmes's poetic story, "the wonderful one-hoss shay" suddenly fell completely to pieces. And that old shay has a lesson for today.

It had been built by a worthy and practical deacon, according to the poem, with not only care but logic—especially logic. The idea was to make the weakest place in the shay "uz strong uz the rest." He did and it ran perfectly, outwearing horse after horse, until its centennial. Then, in a trice, it disintegrated.

Knowingly or unknowingly, Britain's de Havilland Aircraft Co. has found a lesson in the deacon's shay. It announces completion of more than 3,000 separate fatigue tests on metal components for its Comet IV jet airliner in which they survived the equivalent of 120 years' wear.

Is De Havilland trying to show up the old deacon by constructing a plane that would outlast his century-old shay by 20 years? No, it simply wants to "insure an aircraft life of 10 years at maximum utilization with no cracks." That being the case, when and if a Comet IV rolls up in front of us we will climb in without our parachute and say, without a murmur to the pilot, "Blast off!"

Back Scratching Deals Are Bared

WASHINGTON — It used to be that when a government official received a 12-pound ham it made the front pages. Now, when a government official rewards a friend with a $16,000 contract it doesn't make even the inside pages.

Maybe that's because the public can eat and understand hams. Or maybe it's because some Washington reporters can smell a ham but they can't smell a contract. At any rate the trail that Peter Strobel, in charge of Ike's government building contracts, has left behind becomes more interesting every day.

Here is a swerving chapter, developed by sworn testimony before Congressman Celler but neglected by the press.

It's a chapter showing that Strobel, partner in an engineering firm similar to Secretary of Air Force Tolbert's, was an eager-beaver in soliciting business that would help his firm, even while working for the government.

The evidence came from Edwin H. Lawton, Strobel's regional man on the East Coast, who told how he was summoned to Washington to discuss with Strobel alterations for the New York City immigration and naturalization building. Strobel recommended that a $16,339 architect fee for the alterations go to Serge Petroff and Associates.

"Strobel told me that he would arrange to have Mr. Petroff in my office the following morning," Lawton testified.

True to Strobel's promise, Petroff showed up the next morning in Lawton's New York office and the contract was signed without further red tape.

NO COMPETITION

There are 40 or 50 different firms in New York qualified to do this job, but not one was considered. It is usual government policy to invite competitive bidding. However here is the damaging testimony of Mr. Lawton as to why no other firm was consulted.

"Mr. Strobel inferred," he said, "that it was to do business with Mr. Petroff and not with any other firm."

There are two other interesting aspects to this contract to alter the U. S. immigration office in New York City.

One is that ordinarily government architects draw plans for federal buildings in the New York area. It saves money. Government architects are kept on regular salary and can do this type of job without calling on outside help. Only twice in five years have outside architects been called upon for this type of work and the first was Petroff who got the $16,300 immigration job on Aug. 27, 1954.

Second and most important development was what Strobel's firm Strobel and Salzman, got from Petroff, before he was favored with this unusual little contract from Uncle Sam. The answer is that Petroff has given $22,000 worth of business to Strobel and Salzman since Strobel took charge of government buildings in May 1953.

US Double Stake In Middle East Strife

WASHINGTON — The State Department position on the outbreak of heavy fighting between Egypt and Israel consists of two parts.

It is said that the whole world knows that the great powers of the West will not permit Israel to be dismembered or wiped out by its Arab foes.

It is said next that the same powers are not going to arouse the Arabs by frontal action such as direct guarantees of Israel's borders and so endanger the West's position in the Middle East.

How long U.S. diplomacy can keep one foot planted in each camp in this manner is the question. The only immediate echo heard here of the guns firing in the El Aja border area consists of assurances that this country is trying to find out what the United Nations can do to improve the situation.

President Eisenhower, is, of course, in a Denver hospital. Secretary of State Dulles is in Geneva. Congress is not in session. This means that a policy of drift can be maintained much longer than would normally be the case.

Sometimes the British give the Americans a lift in matters of this kind. Or, as Anthony Eden did in the case of Indo-China, they may assume a strong and active role which relieves Dylles of responsibilities distasteful to him because they would involve him in political trouble at home. For example, Dulles avoided trouble with the Republican right wing by washing his hands of Eden's Indo-China solution—but he did not interfere with it.

The British, however, are even stronger than U.S. diplomats in their advocacy of the present policy of dualism in the Middle East. They are determined not to risk what is left of their deeply undermined Middle East position by any new moves that would inflame the Arabs. They also have the touchy Cyprus situation on their hands.

Under these circumstances no startling or fresh initiative can soon be expected from London or Washington. Cynics suggest that the original three-power resolution supporting the present Middle East borders will be freshened up for the occasion. Past crises, it is argued, have worn themselves out and no state, Arab or Israel, really desires war.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

Sen. D. J. Cole, Merriman cattle rancher who early in October was thrown from a horse while herding cattle, from his hospital room has sent friends a mimeographed letter, "How My Accident Happened," to answer the many questions about it he has received.

He has now left the hospital and will stay at an Omaha hotel for a couple of weeks, then fly back to the ranch for a month's rest.

Jay, who has lived all his life in the ranch country and much of it in the saddle, admits that the horse that threw him was an eight-year-old gentle saddle horse often used by his wife. Neighboring ranchers now aver that Jay has deteriorated into a "Cadillac cowboy."

His mimeographed report is the usual good story the senator tells and he does not give himself any of the worst of it. For example, he tells that he was loping up a hill when another rider on white horse came up from the opposite side and "spooked" his horse.

The report is that it was a Hereford steer rather than a horse. The senator raises and boasts constantly about the Black Angus cattle. Hereford cattleman say the Cole horse had been among black cattle so long it did not realize cattle were of any different color.

The senator says he stayed on the horse for five bucking jumps before being thrown. "He couldn't have thrown me off 25 years ago," Cole tells friends in his letter. He says he walked 40 steps to where the trained cowboy waited patiently and then rode a half mile to the cattle herd.

An observer says, Cole writes, that it was three or four times he was bucked and each time he came down on his back on the back of the saddle before being thrown off. Four broken ribs attest to this. Hospital examination also showed a spine injury and a coronary thrombosis.

"The doctor says I am the luckiest guy he ever saw," Cole writes. "I have to pay for only one hospitalization and one doctor bill and yet have the injury and heart at the same time. I told the doctor I must be a pretty tough old cowboy to come out of a deal like that."

Sen. George Hoffmeister of Imperial, physician and Hereford breeder, says that it is to be expected that Angus cattle with ancestry going back to Scotland would leave their traits with owners who would be Scotch enough to have doctors and hospitals treat two illnesses for the price of one.

The Cherry County rancher says that he has missed attending legislative committee meetings which for some reason seem to be most popular on days the Cornhusker football team is not playing at home. He says he would like to have seen Nebraska beat Kansas and expressed hope he could cheer them on when they meet Colorado.

Sen. Cole writes that he believes his recovery will be speeded when he can eat a "good Angus steak."

Sen. Donald F. McGinley, Ogallala, also a Hereford breeder and sponsor of the law putting "The Beef State" on auto license plates, in his dry wit inquired, "Are any Angus steaks good? Herefords made Nebraska known as the beef state."

While Sen. Cole has recovered sufficiently to again feud with his fellow senators, Mrs. Cole continues to direct activities on the ranch and reports that yearling steers have been shipped to feeders in Iowa and Nebraska.

The senator admits Mrs. Cole and ranch employees have "done a good job" in his absence. "Of course, they also do it while I am down to the Legislature," he continues.

The Sower, fellow legislators and the host of friends of Sen. Cole rejoice that he has made such rapid recovery and hope he attends the Colorado game. His added cheers should assure victory.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

How Precious Is The Book Divine

How precious is the book divine,
By inspiration given;
Bright as a lamp its doctrines shine,
To guide our souls to heaven.

It sweetly cheers our drooping hearts,
In this dark vale of tears;
And life and light and joy imparts,
And banishes our fears.

This lamp, thro' all the tedious night
Of life, shall guide our way,
Till we behold the clearer light
Of an eternal day.

By HORACE B. POWELL

Not many hymns have been written about the Holy Scriptures but most of the hymnists who turned their pens to the glorification of the word of God have done well at their tasks.

William Cowper turned out a song entitled "The Light And Glory Of The Word" for the famous Olney collection which he and John Newton produced together in 1779. Bishop William Walsham How's popular religious lyric, "O Word of God Incarnate," is another noteworthy example.

But somewhere near the top of the list, too, John Fawcett's hymn, "How Precious Is The Book Divine," must be counted. It was published in "Hymns Adapted To The Circumstances of Public Worship and Private Devotion," put out by the author in 1782, and contains imagery which suggests that its sentiments were inspired, at least in part, by the psalmist's declaration (Psalm 119): "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

Book men the world around bear testimony, year after year, that the Bible is still the "best seller" of all published works. And everywhere one finds countless Christians ready to testify, with John Fawcett, that

"This lamp, through all the tedious night
Of life, shall guide our way,
Till we behold the clearer light
Of an eternal day".

Building A Team

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Of all columns that have been written about Cornhusker football over the years, the present exchange with Coach Glassford about the desirability of scheduling games with the big teams reaches the very zenith of man, puerile twaddle. So we want to continue to play the big boys because "we look good against them" and because "our boys learn so much from such games."

Minnesota has beaten us 13 times since the Rose Bowl; Indiana, 7 times; Pittsburgh, 5 times. What have we learned? Well, not enough to beat Oklahoma for a dozen years. In the last 15 years the Cornhuskers have won more games than they have lost from only South Dakota, Kansas, Kansas State and Iowa State. Where has our state and school pride gone? In days of yore the Cornhuskers used to trot out on the field with the idea: "This one we will win." Now apparently they go out "just to make a good showing and learn things." Or are they going out just to rake in some additional dough for dear old Alma Mammy without too much concern about whether they may win or lose?

It would seem that the "building" program for Cornhusker football will take as long as the building of some of the European cathedrals. Let's either play the kind of football we are scheduling or go Ivy League and be honest about it.

TIED OF WAITING

Lincoln Wrestling

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: My appreciation to Virginia Greder for her comments regarding the recent wrestling card at the fairgrounds arena. As the ring announcer, I was very much in sympathy with Adam Krieger that evening. Although my relationship with him is confined to doing the ring announcing, I have come to know him as one of the most conscientious men I have ever met. I have seen him completely upset over even the smallest of changes in a previously advertised card. For the benefit of the fans who read The Star, I know that Adam Krieger's most prized possession is the trust his patrons accord him. I assure Star readers that he has never, since I have worked with him, misrepresented or over-advertised a Lincoln card.

May I say, too, that probably the most concerned and disappointed man at the arena that night was Champion Lou Thesz. He also didn't want it to be implied that he was in any way responsible for Jonathan's failure to get a shot at the title. Knowing how these wrestlers must meet contract obligations that involve an unbelievable total of miles, I am amazed that they have such a fine record for being where they are supposed to be for their matches. For example, Angelo Paffo, who was on that same card, drove a total of 640 miles that same day to arrive in Lincoln. Jonathan had to fly from Montreal, Canada, in the same time but the airline strike delayed him, unfortunately.

I can truthfully say that Adam is bringing top national cards to Lincoln. Although the season has just started, he has already shown two world champions — Lou Thesz, and the midge champ, Sky Low.

I would like to see Lincoln fans continue to keep the capitol city on the wrestling map. However, the public reserves the right to go where it pleases, but let's hope the fans will realize that Mr. Krieger is constantly trying to present the very best stars in the wrestling sport. Let's also hope that Lincoln fans will realize that the fairgrounds arena is one of the most ideal sports arenas in the world. The general admission seats are regarded by many as being better than the reserved.

LEE BARRON

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Upon reading the letter column for Wednesday, Nov. 2, I noticed that someone has undertaken the defense of the Thesz-Jonathan wrestling match. I, too, am a wrestling fan but not in Lincoln for awhile.

The fans aren't griping because Don Leo Jonathan didn't show up, because we realize that the airline strike wasn't within our control. Also, we want big wrestlers in Lincoln, but when we pay $2 to see them, we want to see a wrestling match. Everyone knew Don Lee wasn't a fit nor efficient opponent for Lou Thesz and yet he won a fall from Thesz after failing to beat another opponent. If the announcer was so worried why didn't he put Roy McClarity's match first and then let Roy fight Thesz? At least he would have kept his fans there. If the fans quit because of such a deal, that's his hard luck — let it be a lesson.

How about a defense for Thesz not bringing his belt? He must not have been very worried about losing it. If we are going to have wrestling, let's have it.

State School Bond Issues Top Record

Elections Set In 11 Towns During Month

School bond elections in Nebraska during November will mark an all-time record.

Bond issues in 12 Nebraska cities totaling $33,185,000 will be held this month.

Floyd Parker, director of school building services for the State Department of Education, attributes this record to "the impact of the war's increased birth rate. Also some of this increase is beginning to push into our high schools."

Approximately one-half of the November elections concern increased high school facilities and buildings. The previous high for Nebraska school bond elections came last February when Lincoln voters okayed a $10 million bond issue.

Kearney, Columbus, Omaha and Omaha Westside residents will be voting on bond issues over the million dollars mark.

The November school bond issues are:

Kearney, Nov. 8: $2,200,000.
Columbus, Nov. 8: $1,500,000.
Holdrege, Nov. 8: $800,000.
Minden, Nov. 15: $600,000.
Falls City, Nov. 15: $525,000.
Papillion, Nov. 15: $145,000.
Pleasanton, Nov. 15: $240,000.
Omaha Westside, Nov. 15: $7,000,000.
Omaha, Nov. 22: $22,000,000.
Ord, Nov. 22: $320,000.
Laurel: $160,000; no date set.
Nebraska City will have a $970,000 school bond election during December.

Five Journalism Students Get Gold Keys

Winners of gold keys for outstanding scholarship in their first year of journalism work at the University of Nebraska are (from left) Barbara Jelgerhuis of Huron, S. D.; Barbara Sharp of Omaha; Perry Volzke of Broken Bow; Marilyn Heck of California, Mo.; and Beverly Buck, 1620 So. 23rd, Lincoln, al sophomores. ## Accuracy Stressed By Apking In Talk To Young Journalists

"Dig down and get the facts," Edgar Apking, business manager of the Ord Quiz, told members of the Nebraska High School Press Assn.

He spoke at the opening session of the annual convention at the University of Nebraska when five university students were honored for outstanding work in first-year journalism.

The students who received gold keys given by The Lincoln Star and The Lincoln Journal were Barbara Jelgerhuis, Huron, S.D.; Beverly Buck, Lincoln; Barbara Sharp, Omaha; Peggy Ann Volzke, Broken Bow, and Marilyn Heck, California, Mo.

Dr. William F. Swindler, School of Journalism director, made the presentations.

Over 400 Attend
Apking in his speech told the more than 400 high school journalists and advisers to be objective in everything they do.

"There is too much tendency to slip over the details in handling a news story," he said. "Get the facts, get them correctly and get all of them."

Speaking of journalism as a career, Apking said "the field is not overcrowded, opportunities are great and the future is tremendous."

The training is rigorous, he said, but the pay is good.

"You must be content for a short period of time following graduation to reconcile yourself to the fact that you are not a journalist just because you have a diploma," he advised the students.

Karen Peterson of Lincoln Northeast High School presided at the convocation at the Student Union ballroom.

Also taking part in the program were Ellen Stokes of Omaha North High School; Marilyn Mitchell of Omaha, president of the University chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity; and Mrs. Florence Barta of Nebraska City, president of the NHPA.

Wayne, Boone County Agents Given Honors

Haskell Farm Inspected By NU Officials

The C. D. Haskell farm, located one mile east of Concord, in northeast Nebraska, "probably would serve the purpose" of a University of Nebraska experimental farm.

This was the opinion of university officials following an initial inspection trip to the farm earlier this week.

C. D. Haskell of Laurel has offered the farm to be used as an experimental farm as a memorial to his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Haskell of Wakefield.

University officials, including Dean W. V. Lambert and Dr. Elvin Frolik of the College of Agriculture, will meet again in the middle of November with representatives of the Northeast Experimental Farm Assn. to continue negotiations. However, a university spokesman pointed out, there are many technical problems to be worked out before the Haskell farm can be considered for an experimental farm.

Ruth Ann Scott Was Friday Bride

MRS. JAMES D. WHITESIDE

For the wedding of Miss Ruth Ann Scott, daughter of Mrs. Jessamine Scott, and Lt. James D. Whiteside, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Whiteside of Wilmington, Ill., which took place on Friday evening at the Calvary Evangelical Church, the chancel was appointed with white gladioli, white pompons and lighted candles arranged against a background of greenery. Candles, caught with clusters of white blossoms and greenery, marked the processional aisle on either side. The Rev. William Rembolt read the lines of the 8 o'clock service, and the wedding music was played by Dale Underwood, organist. Mr. Underwood also accompanied the vocal soloist, Miss Dianne Knotek. Alike frocks of white taffeta were chosen for the costumes of the attendants who were Miss Beverly Klein of Adams, her cousin's maid of honor; Miss Beverly Jacobs, Miss Jane Culwell, Miss Barbara Ely, and Miss Beverly Hammel, the bridesmaids. Beneath the snugly fitted bodices the waltz-length skirts were exceedingly wide. Each of the attendants carried a crescent bouquet of red roses. Mrs. William Debus and Miss Bonnie Spichal lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Barbara Kamp. Steven Kamp was the ring bearer.

William Whiteside of Champaign, Ill., served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Tom Trandall, James Munson, Tom Haley, Don Scanlon and Michael Edwards.

The bride's gown of pure silk taffeta was patterned with seed pearls and was designed with long, lace sleeves in a smoothly molded bodice, and a voluminous skirt that was draped to the back in a bustle effect. A motif of pearl embroidery contoured the portrait neckline of the bodice and was repeated on the skirt to accent the back fullness. Her tiered elbow-length veil of imported illusion was held to the head with a pillbox of taffeta and seed pearls and she carried a white Bible marked with white orchids and stephanotis.

After the reception, held in the church parlors, Lt. Whiteside and his bride left for a honeymoon trip through the southern states en route to Del Rio, Tex., where the bridegroom is stationed with the Air Force, and where they will reside. For traveling Mrs. Whiteside wore a camel-toned suit.

The bride is a former student at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Lt. Whiteside also attended the University of Nebraska.

Church Ceremonies

Double Wedding

At a double wedding ceremony solemnized Friday evening, Nov. 4, Miss Elda Stutzman became the bride of Elwood Yoder of Denver, and her twin sister, Miss Nelda Stutzman, became the bride of Wallace Yoder of Friend. The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Stutzman, and the bridegrooms' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Yoder of Friend.

Spreading arrangements of chrysanthemums and gladioli in autumn tones appointed the chancel of Trinity Methodist Church for the 8 o'clock service, which was read by the Rev. Vance D. Rogers, and Charles Triff, organist, played the wedding music. Mr. Triff also accompanied Miss Marilyn Stutzman of Dorchester, and Ronnie Albert of Clatonia, vocalists.

The sisters attended each other as maid of honor, and their bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Hubbard, Dorchester, Miss Belva Yoder, Friend, Miss Joan Stutzman and Miss Delores Stahl of Lincoln. Wearing identical frocks of gold velvet fashioned in the ballerina length and designed with long torso bodices, the attendants carried cascades of bronze and gold pompons tufted with gold net. Miss Brenda Stutzman of Lincoln and Miss Gweneth Stutzman of Milford, in white velvet, were the flower girls and lighting the candles were Miss Linda Hubbard of Dorchester and Miss Joyce Yoder of Friend.

The bridegrooms served as best man for each other, and the ushers were Elmer Eigsti and Lloyd Zook of Denver, Lawrence Yoder of Friend, Bob Stutzman, Harley Stutzman and Dan Suiter, all of Milford. Ring bearers were James Stutzman, Lincoln, and Ronnie Stutzman of Dorchester.

White imported lace smoothed over satin fashioned the brides' alike gowns. Petal collars of the lace accented the deep, illusion yokes of the molded bodices, which were completed by long, fitted sleeves, and very full tiers of the lace formed the wide skirts. Their veils of French illusion were held by tiaras of tiny pearls and opalescent sequins, and they each carried a white Bible showered with pale yellow roses.

A reception for 300 guests was held in the church parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Yoder will reside at 2820 So. 40th, Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Yoder will make their home in Denver.

Town Talk

THIS week-end weddings—next week-end football—and in between are numerous affairs for this reason and that—And speaking of reasons for festivity—there were two excellent ones for the dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Raymond on Friday evening—namely—Mr. Raymond and Mrs. Donald W. Miller who celebrate their birthday anniversaries on the same day.

AND when Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cooper are a host and hostess at their home on Monday evening their guests will be the members of the committee planning for the Saturday Night Club party to be held next Saturday evening.

We hear that on hand to complete plans for the forthcoming dinner dance will be committee members Mr. and Mrs. Ross Idol, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hodder and Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Lamphere.

THE mention of dancing clubs reminds us that the Colonial Dancing Club will be dining and dancing for the first time this season at Hotel Cornhusker on Monday night. Guest couples at the party will be Mr. and Mrs. William Hauptman and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jeffrey.

HEAR that Mrs. R. A. Phillips is back home again—Mrs. Phillips returned last week from Europe where she had been spending the past six weeks.

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Robert H. Talbot left on Friday for Rochester, Minn., where she will have a glimpse of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Emerson Ward, before they take off for the east coast. Mrs. Talbot, we hear, will remain in Rochester to keep an eye on her grandchildren.

THUMBING through next week's activities in our little red book, found a luncheon for which Mrs. C. Myron Loomis and Mrs. Gilbert Hanson will be hostesses next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Hanson, when they pay prenuptial courtesy to Miss Phyllis Colbert who will marry Lt. Charles Hunley on Dec. 27. An informal afternoon will follow the luncheon, and the soon-to-be bride will be presented with a gadget shower.

To Be Morning Bride

MISS HELEN CLAIRE GAHAN whose marriage to David E. Johnston takes place this morning at St. Bonaventure Church, Columbus.

At a 10 o'clock ceremony this morning the marriage of Miss Helen Claire Gahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Gahan of Columbus, to David E. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnston of Brunswick, will be solemnized at St. Bonaventure Church in Columbus. The Rev. Timothy Healy will solemnize the service and Mrs. C. L. Stone, organist, will play the wedding music, and also will accompany Miss Marie Classen of Lincoln, the vocal soloist.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Verne C. Bartholomew, will be the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids are Miss Evelyn Van Ert and Miss Sally Ragatz, both of Lincoln. Their frocks of mauve taffeta are identical and are designed with sleeveless bodices, in which bands of tucking contour the portrait necklines, and bouffant daisies-length skirts that are caught with bustle bows at the back. Each will wear a hair bandeau of matching taffeta and carry a nosegay of white and mauve chrysanthemums. Diane Bartholomew, niece of the bride, will be the flower girl.

John McCroft of Neligh will serve Mr. Johnston as best man, and seating the guests will be Don Johnston of Brunswick, brother of the bridegroom; Robert Gahan, Lyons, brother of the bride; Edgar Garrison, Lincoln, and Verne Bartholomew.

The bride has chosen a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin for her wedding. The long-sleeved bodice of lace, its low, shoulder-wide neckline banded with opalescent sequins, narrows to a slender waist above the voluminous tulle skirt which is patterned at the hipline with a delicate motif of lace. Her veil of illusion is fingertip length, and is held to the head with a plateau of seed pearls and sequins.

Claudette Helm Weds Dr. Mockett

A decor of chrysanthemums, white for the altar and the gold and bronze shades for the chancel, and lighted candles in seven-branched candelabra made an attractive background for the wedding of Miss Claudette Helm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Walker Helm, and Dr. Robert Ellis Mockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wright Mockett, which took place on Friday afternoon, Nov. 4, at St. Matthew's Church, Episcopal. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. James Stillwell, rector of St. Matthew's, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Lloyd True, organist.

The three attendants, Miss Ann Mockett, sister of the bridegroom, as the maid of honor; Miss Mary Ann Crandall and Miss Phyllis Cast, the bridesmaids, appeared in identically designed frocks of iridescent taffeta, the gold tone for Miss Mockett, and the antique green shade for the maids. Extending into deep Elizabethan waistline points in front the molded bodices were fashioned with sur-le-coude sleeves, caught with soft shirring, and necklines that dipped to V's in the front and back. The wide, ballerina skirts were given back interest with below-waistline bows. The costumes were completed with frock-toned half-hats that swirled to points at the temples, and their cascade bouquets were fashioned of fuji chrysanthemums, bronze for the maid of honor, and gold for the bridesmaids.

Richard Beechner served Dr. Mockett as best man, and seating the guests were Robert Volz, John T. Anderson and Tom Hebard of Nebraska City.

A gown of Chantilly lace and tulle, smoothed over satin, was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The long-sleeved bodice of lace, fashioned with a shell neckline contoured with re-embroidered lace in a floral motif, and touched with paillettes, narrowed to a slender Elizabethan waist beneath which the lace grifted in petal swirls over the voluminous skirt of tulle. Her tiered veil of silk illusion was fingertip length and was held to the head with a lace calot, edged with satin. She carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and croton leaves, centered with white orchids.

MRS. ROBERT ELLIS MOCKETT

Following the reception held in the Parish House, Dr. Mockett and his bride left for a honeymoon in Ojai, Calif., after which they will go to Long Beach where they will reside at 1213 East Ocean Dr. For traveling Mrs. Mockett wore a tweed sheath frock in the beige tones, with matching coat and brown accessories.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Dr. Mockett was graduated from the University of Nebraska, where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and also was graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha where he is a member of Phi Rho Sigma. Dr. Mockett now is serving his internship at Veterans Administration Hospital in Long Beach.

Clinton PTA Serves 'Snack'

When Clinton PTA members began making plans for their annual open house, which was held at the school Friday evening, they decided to serve a snack supper to the parents and their children, little dreaming over 1,000 reservations would be made.

Friday was a day of frantic work for the chairmen and their committees who rolled up their sleeves, borrowed the basement of Epworth Methodist Church and prepared 135 pounds of ground beef for "hamburgers", peeled a bushel of onions, buttered endless amounts of buns and made 125 pounds of potato salad and 116 gallons of baked beans.

Toiling over the hot stove on Friday were (left to right) Mrs. John Kelly, chairman of the open house committee; Mrs. Clarence Clemens of the social committee; and Mrs. Lee Mullinix. Other committee members were Miss Marian Watkins, principal, Mrs. Gordon Minnig, Mrs. Clyde L. Pecht, Mrs. C. M. Roberts, Mrs. John Moeller, Mrs. Lloyd Dove, Mrs. Fred Schopf, Mrs. Frank E. Austin, Mrs.

Charles Williams, Mrs. Delmer Bamberger, Mrs. Jerry Sobotka, Mrs. Wesley Walker, Mrs. Wilard Craft and Mrs. A. J. Whitmer.

Iowa May Cut Sales Tax Rate

DES MOINES (AP) — Gov. Leo Hoegh said Friday he might ask the Iowa Legislature when it is convened late next year to consider tax revision, to repeal the new and extra half per cent state sales tax.

"I have always been dedicated against the sales tax increase, although I had to take it when it was enacted by the 1955 Legislature," the governor continued. "I had preferred a substantial increase in the income tax."

"I would ask repeal of the sales tax increase only if sufficient revenue is collected by the time of a special session for tax revision late next year. It appears that the increase will yield more than we anticipated."

The Iowa Tax Study committee is expected to make recommendations about next Sept. 1 for tax revision. The act which created the committee called for a special session of the Legislature as soon as the committee reports. Hoegh has said repeatedly that he will call one then.

The 1955 Legislature boosted the sales tax from 2 to 2½ per cent, effective last July 1 for the two-year period ending June 30, 1957. It was anticipated when the increase was voted that sales tax revenue would raise an additional 25 per cent. The result of the boost will not begin to show up until late this month. That is because the quarter is just now coming in in volume.

Hoegh has said that he might also include in his call for a special tax revision legislative session a proposal for reapportionment of the Legislature.

$3,250 Fee In Hardy Divorce Suit Is Upheld

The Supreme court Friday upheld the District Court award of $3,250 as attorney fees to Gradwohl, Carter and Gradwohl of Lincoln for representing Jean W. Hardy in a divorce proceeding against Phillip S. Hardy which was later dismissed at request of their client. Subsequently the Hardys were divorced at Las Vegas, Nev.

Hardy opposed the District Court award as too high and the law firm appealed, arguing that its services were worth $35,000. Justice Edward Carter whose son is in the law firm which represented Mrs. Hardy withdrew from sitting during the decisions of the court.

The court affirmed a Lincoln District Court finding that a Colorado court did not have jurisdiction to grant a divorce to Mary Zenker from William M. Zenker and that a judgment against him was invalid.

The court reiterated its stand of last week in the case of Yost v. Yost that where a decree has been obtained in a sister state by fraud it is not entitled to full faith and credit in this state.

New trial was ordered in suit of Mildred D. Kroeger, administratrix, against Karl Safranek and Prucka Transportation, Inc. in Saunders County. First trial resulted in judgment of $37,725 against Safranek in connection with death of Russell K. Kroeger in accident west of Wahoo in July, 1953.

Upheld $15,000 judgment obtained by Robert Griess in suit in Clay County against Dean Borchers for damages in connection with two-car collision southeast of Clay Center in April, 1954.

Reversed Wayne County District Court ruling that Fomiel Wehrer and others were entitled to share in estate of Emma Baker.

Resurvey Of Basin Power Needs Asked

MINOT, N.D. (AP)—The Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee has been asked to resurvey the power needs of the Missouri Basin area.

Gov. Norman Brunsdale of North Dakota told MBIAC members at the meeting held here this week that he had been approached by rural power groups, asking that the 1952 study made by an MBIAC subcommittee, be brought up to date.

The committee asked Kenneth G. Tower, Federal Power Commission representative on the committee, to report at the next meeting on the amount of work involved in either making a new study or bringing up to date the exhaustive study published in 1952 after 18 months of study.

Tower will make his report to the next meeting of the committee, to be held Dec. 14 in Sioux City.

Meet Star Carrier Larry Schultze

Mr. Fred Schultze told his son, Larry, that a business can be developed wherever people live. Larry talked this over with his parents, and then decided that the Lincoln Star route would be a fine business in Barneston. This happened about six months ago. Larry spent several months laying his ground work of giving good service and getting acquainted with everyone in town as a newspaper boy. Then, he felt he was ready for the "big punch"—needed more profits—wanted to serve more people in his community.

Schultze

He was ready to expand his Star paper business. This he found was easy to do by using the sampling method. His parents feel that he has hit a very good average of new business for sales calls made, plus gaining profit and educational experience with his well planned work.

Along with his paper route, Larry has been able to carry a full activity program in Barneston. He played baseball in a league this summer and his team won over one-half of its games.

Swimming and hunting are also favorite pastimes. This fall, he played football on a team against the high school freshmen.

Larry is using his profits for a new bike. He would encourage any boy who needs a good bicycle to look into the newspaper business.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Democracy would work finer than fish fur in Europe if it wasn't for the voting.

Everytime they have an election the monkey-wrench goes for a honeymoon in the machinery. Especially in the Saar

The Saar hasn't discovered that liberty, equality and points won't depend on closing the rathskellar on election day.

This last Saar business started more riotous than a cover charge in a bread-line. Just like the one in 1935 that stamped the company's brand on Shickelgruber's oleo.

The Saar has taken Alsace's place as the lost province. Mussolini pulled the same line on Italy's Irredentia.

Galois, Jacobs Lead Scoring As Links Explode For Victory

By RON SPEER
Star Sports Staff Member

Lincoln High's backfield twins, Ron Galois and Dick Jacobs, ran like the Links of old at Magee Stadium Friday night, and with the help of two recovered short kickoffs, pushed the Links past Northeast, 34-12.

The cross-town classic was a closer battle than the score indicated. The Links led by a single point at the half, 7-6, but exploded in the last two periods to trip the Rockets.

The Links pilfered their own kickoff from the Rockets on two occasions in the last half. Both steals led to touchdowns.

Northeast bagged a couple of morale boosting statistics during the game, however. The Rockets ended a scoring drought which had extended over the past five years and scored two touchdowns in a losing cause. They had been held to single counters in 13 of the 15 contests, scoring twice only when they won in 1949 and '50.

STATISTICS	Lincoln High	Northeast
First Downs	9	13
Rushing Yards	342	140
Passing Yards	28	39
Passes Attempted	3	3
Passes Completed	3	3
Passes Intercepted by	0	4

Galois, who works from the full-back and wingback slot for Coach Bill Pfeiff, hit the line for much of the Link yardage—Lincoln High netting 342 yards rushing — and scored twice.

Jacobs, who is a tailback exclusively, also racked up two touchdowns. He opened the scoring with a six-yard dash around left end, and scampered 63 yards late in the third period to give the Links a 13-6 lead.

The dancing Jacobs' first marker was set up by a Northeast punt which lost yardage. The Rockets elected to punt with fourth and one, and the punt went out of bounds on the Links 44.

Dick's long run in the third period followed a halted Rocket bid which penetrated to the Link's 13. Gene Dittner had swept his left end for 26 yards but the Lincoln High forward wall stiffened, and on the fourth down Dittner fumbled and the Links took over.

Then Galois came onto the scoring stage. After tackle John Sacks recovered the Links' short kick on the Northeast 38, Galois chugged 10 yards for a first down.

He lugged again on the next play, hit three Rocket defenders in the secondary like an express train and skipped over for a 28-yard tally.

The Rockets were down, but not out. Taking the kickoff on their own 42, they moved to the Links' three where quarterback Ted Dewey plunged for the point.

The drive was sparked by the passing of Bob Els, who hit Ron Long for a 13-yard gain and Dittner for seven. Long contributed 12 more on an off-tackle play.

The Rockets had scored their first marker in the second period, when Dewey climaxed a 57-yard march with a three-yard leap.

The Links tied the game in the last five minutes with two more touchdowns. Substitute Bill Swanson, who sparkled in plunges through the middle, ended a 78-yard drive with a two-yard blast over tackle.

The Links, who wanted the ball on every play, captured their own kickoff following Swanson's touchdown, on the Rockets' 44.

Galois did the scoring with a 10-yard drive on a trap play.

The Links' Chuck Dorsey did a he-man's job of blocking. He upended two Rockets to clear Jacob's touchdown path in the first quarter, and asprung Galois loose with other timely blocks.

It was the last game for both teams. Lincoln High finished with a 6-2-1 record, and Northeast a 2-6-1 mark.

Cy Young, 'Greatest' Winning Pitcher, Dies

By FRITZ HOWELL
P. O. I. O. H. — Cy Young died Friday.

Baseball knew him as its greatest winning pitcher, first flinger to enter the Hall of Fame. His 30-odd neighbors in this tiny village knew him for the most tender and enduring love story ever written in his native Tuscarawas County hills.

Cy was 38. It was 65 years ago that he trudged out of the hill country, a raw-boned farm youth of 23, to write one of the most glowing chapters in baseball's history. He appeared in 906 games over a 22-year span in the big leagues, winning 511 and losing 315. He pitched four no-hit games, three in the majors.

Quit At 45
He was 45 when he finally hung up his glove, after losing a 1-0 game to a youthful Grover Cleveland Alexander. He had struck out 2,332 batters in his long career.

His real name was Denton True Young, although he was enshrined on the scroll of fame as Denton Tecumseh Young. But everyone hereabouts, and throughout the world, knew him as Cy—a spinner of yarns, a woodchopper, and an outspoken critic of the modern trend of changing pitchers at the first sign of trouble.

Cy, despite his fabulous record, never earned more than $2,500 a year in baseball. His first salary at Cleveland—he was traded to that club by Canton, Ohio, for a suit of clothes—was $1,400.

Crete Shocks Beatrice, 13-0
CRETE—Beatrice, with the Mid-East title under its belt was rudely surprised by a fighting Crete team here Friday night, as the Cardinals won a 13-0 battle.

The win gave Crete the Twin Rivers championship.

Both of Crete's scores were on short plunges. Larry Roth smashed over the Beatrice line for a three-yard touchdown, and Gary Schlechte registered the other with a three-yard spurt.

Beatrice missed a pair of golden opportunities early in the game. Max Martz led the Orangemen to the Crete 15, where the drive fizzled and Crete took over.

But Crete fumbled and Beatrice had another chance. But the drive was halted on the five by the charging Crete line, and Beatrice never threatened again.

Doug Hokenstad, from his line-backing position, was the thorn in Beatrice's side. His defensive play was outstanding.

The halfback tallied on runs of four, 52, and 85 yards. Chuck Stacey, the Indians quarterback, passed to Ken Stratton for one touchdown and plunged a yard for another.

Paul Haith was the workhorse for Humboldt, scoring twice.

Nebraska Frosh Score Narrow 3-0 Win

Lincoln Star Special
MANHATTAN, Kan.—Rich King kicked a field goal with just 59 seconds remaining here Friday afternoon to give the University of Nebraska freshmen a 3-0 victory over Kansas State yearlings.

It was poetic justice for the Cornhusker frosh who lost their opening fracas to Iowa State by the margin of a field goal. Cyclone frosh won that one, 17-14.

King's kick came after Nebraska kept the hosts within their own 40 throughout the entire closing period and climaxed a defensive battle that was destined for a scoreless deadlock.

Kansas State's third punt of the final period set the Cornhuskers in business at the 38 and the field goal came soon after. A penalty for delay of the game, an incomplete pass and Lennie Dillard's 2-yard advance brought up a fourth down situation at the 41 but Dick McCashland took over there.

He ran 22 yards to the 19 on a fullback delay and smashed two yards to the six soon after. Claire Boroff plunged to the five to move the ball directly in front of the upside and King kicked on the next play from the 16.

It was Nebraska's second field-goal attempt of the game. Ernest English had toed the ball late in the second period from the 17 but the kick, from a bad angle, rolled harmlessly off to the left in the end zone.

English's kick came after the only touchdown of the game had been called back when Nebraska was offside. Dillard ran into the end zone on a wide pitchout and run off the right side from the 14 but the penalty nullified the counter and English tried his field goal on the second play after.

Both clubs had threatened in the first half but capable defenses thwarted every bid.

Jim Miller cuddled a K-State fumble at the Wildcat 16 early in the first period but Bill Brown grabbed Eddie Corazzi's bobble just two plays later at the 20 to end that Nebraska threat.

Kansas State moved to the Cornhusker six early in the second stanza but Nebraska held and took over on downs after Mike Solatka had passed to Gerry Overton for a 30-yard advance to highlight a host march with a short Boroff punt at the 50-yard stripe.

Boroff punted Nebraska out of danger at the 30 but the Wildcats moved back as far as the 20. The first of two K-State passes intercepted by Nebraska ended the march at the 24. McCashland nabbed the errant aerial and ran from the 20 to the K-State 37. The Scarlet moved to the 14 before Dillard's touchdown was called back and English tried his field goal.

Corazzi grabbed another K-State aerial late in the period and set the invaders up at the 47. Dillard ran 14 yards, caught a Corazzi pass for eight yards and ran four more yards to the 21 as the first half ended.

Nebraska was at the K-State 21 early in the third quarter but lost the ball on a fumble and then grabbed a Wildcat miscue to stop a budding host drive at the Scarlet 14. Kansas State had marched 46 yards after that bobble but Howard McVey's recovery of Craig Jones' fumble at the 17 halted K-State hopes on that push.

Six punts—three by each team—highlighted furious defensive action in the final quarter as neither team advanced past the enemy's 30. In fact, the farthest K-State could move the ball in the closing period was to its own 40 as Nebraska kept the pressure on.

Boroff, the Nebraska workhorse, gained 62 yards in 17 carries. Dillard accounted for 41 yards on 15 carries and McCashland ran six times for 40 yards.

Huskers Can Cinch Tie For 2nd Today

Nebraskans Seven Point Favorite; 14,000 Expected At IS Parents Day

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star
AMES, Ia.—The University of Nebraska Cornhuskers will seek to maintain their perfect record in Big Seven play when they meet the Iowa State Cyclones at Clyde Williams Field here Saturday afternoon.

A Parents Day crowd of about 14,000 is expected to watch the Huskers—favored by seven points—and the Cyclones perform in the 50th meeting of the two teams. A Husker win would insure a second-place tie in the Big Seven.

Nebraska has a 3-0 record in conference action this year, while the Iowans have a 1-1 mark. The Huskers have defeated Missouri, Kansas State and Kansas, Iowa State has beaten Missouri, tied Kansas and lost to Kansas State.

By comparative scores, Nebraska stands as the favorite.

NEBRASKA 3 0 0 3-0
IOWA STATE 1 1 0 2-1
NU 16 KU 18 29 KU 13
NU 19 KU 14 18 7 KU 7
NU 19 KU 14 18 7 KU 9

Overall, the Huskers have won three and lost four—to non-conference foes Hawaii, Ohio State, Texas A&M and Pittsburgh. Iowa State is 1-4-1 on the year, with other losses coming at the hands of Illinois, Drake and Denver.

But while Nebraska is rated the favorite there is always the problem that confronts the Cornhuskers when they visit Ames. They can't seem to roll up a comfortable margin.

Nebraska has won every game at Ames since 1945, but the widest margin of points has been only eight. During the 49 years the two teams have a game, Nebraska has won 40, lost eight and tied one.

Halfback Sylvester Harris of Kansas City, Mo., will captain the Cornhuskers today.

It's expected that Nebraska will rely on its hard-hitting ground attack, while the Cyclones will continue their passing antics.

In seven games the Huskers have picked up 1,099 yards on the ground and 551 through the air to rank second behind Oklahoma in the total offense department. Halfbacks Willie Greenlaw and Rex Fischer are the leading gainers.

Iowa State, on the other hand is the Big Seven's top passing team, having attempted 127 passes in six games. While the Cyclones have gained 679 yards on the ground, 53 passes have been completed for 621 yards. Thus almost half of the Iowa State offensive total has been posted via the airways.

Quarterback John Breckenridge does most of the flipping for the multiple-offense Cyclones (T, Split T, single wing, double flanker) and End Harold Potts is his prime receiver.

Breckenridge has hit 34 of 74 passes for 358 yards to rank third in the loop. Potts has grabbed 13 of his aerials, or 158 yards and is fifth in pass-receiving.

The probable starters:

Wilber Dumps Syracuse
WILBER — Jim Petracek pitched two touchdowns passes to Clark Sudyman to start Wilber on the way to a 28-7 upset of Syracuse here Friday night.

Early in the first period Petracek flipped a five-yard pass to Sudyman, and the big senior end sprinted 60 more yards to score.

In the second Petracek threw 40 yards to Sudyman in the end zone and Wilber threw a 140 yardline lead. Roger Prochazka plunged two yards for a Wilber touchdown in the fourth quarter and got another TD when he recovered Bill Apfelbeck's fumble in the end zone.

Linebacker Everett Stacey sparked the Wilber defense in the upset.

Notre Dame-Penn Go Small Part Of Huge Football Slate

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

One of the more colorful stories the late Knute Rockne used to tell concerned a time when he tackled Jim Thorpe in a pro football game. As they arose from the turf, Thorpe pointed to the crowd in the stands and said: "See all those people, Mr. Rockne. They come here to see Old Jim run."

Similar thinking may explain why some 50,000 fans are expected to turn out today for the game between Notre Dame and Pennsylvania. They want to see Notre Dame run. As a football game, it figures to be the kind of a mis-match that a boxing commission never would allow.

Notre Dame is ranked sixth among the college football powers in this week's Associated Press poll and it's a team that has been improving since its one setback by Michigan State. Penn has lost 15 in a row and the only thing its harassed coach, Steve Sebo, could do this week was to put a couple of sophomores in the lineup in hope that speed and spirit would make a respectable showing against the Irish.

Other high-ranking teams also are expected to attract sizeable crowds today, but in most cases there's a reason.

Top-rated Maryland takes on Louisiana State, which has won only once but has given a rough time to several Southeastern Conference powers, while Oklahoma and Michigan, 2 and 3 in the poll, face old and respected rivals.

Oklahoma should rack up its 25th straight victory, its 51st game without defeat in the Big 7 and its 102nd in an unbroken scoring string against Missouri. But the performance of the Tigers and pass-catcher Hank Burnine against Colorado indicates that they could get tough. Likewise, a speedy set of Illinois backs might give Michigan some trouble although the Illini have topped only one Big 10 opponent in two seasons.

TKO Victory To Bob Boyd

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Boyd, slugger Chicago middleweight Friday night scored an eight-round technical knockout over George Johnson, Trenton, N.J.

The fight was stopped at 2:55 of the round. The bout had been scheduled for 10 rounds.

Boyd weighed 160½, Johnson 157. The nationally televised fight from Chicago Stadium was a bruising, slugfest affair. Both fighters hit the deck.

Both fighters fell in the first from the force of one of Boyd's rights but it was counted as no knockdown. Boyd got up and then dropped Johnson with another hard right.

Boyd continued to carry the fight in the second round but was unable to finish off the 25-year-old Seminole Indian.

Johnson began showing form in the middle rounds but Boyd, seemingly tired, battered Johnson across the ring in the eighth round, dropping him at will. Referee Frank Sikora stepped in and signalled the end with Johnson sprawled over the ropes.

Cozad Whips Minden, 13-7

COZAD—The Cozad Haymakers closed the football season on a triumphant note Friday night defeating the strong Minden Whippets 13-7.

Cozad scored two touchdowns in the third quarter and Minden was never able to catch up. Jack Ackerman took an 18-yard pass from Eugene Lawhead for the first counter, and in the same period Maynard Smith went over from eight yards out. Charles Marshall added the point.

Minden came back strong in the fourth quarter when a Wilson-Jacobson pass play covering 44 yards put the ball on the Cozad field. Moving to the three on a penalty, Arnold punched over the TD and Wilson added the point.

It gave Cozad a 6-1 record for the season, with a 6-0 loss to McCook in the opener the only loss. The Haymakers also copped the Central Five title in the Southwest Conference.

Jeffer Roll Past Falls City 22-6
FAIRBURY—The Fairbury Jeffers sparked in the second half to roll over the Falls City Tigers 22-6 in the season closer here Friday night.

Falls City took a second quarter lead when Marv Zinn grabbed a 13 yard pass from back Jerry Collier. On the opening kickoff in the second half a Falls City back received the kick and in starting his return circled into the end zone.

Seconds later, Larry Doggett plunged over for the Jeffers to make the score 9-6. Dean Valentine converted.

Early in the fourth quarter Phil Hardesty plunged from the two. Hardesty converted on a plunge. The last score of the evening came when Fairbury guard Hugh Jones blocked a Tiger pass, grabbed the ball in mid-air and sprinted from the 45 to the six points.

Fairbury 22, Falls City 6.
Since the Southeastern Conference was formed in 1933 Alabama is the only school to have three unbeaten and untied teams — 1934, 1937, and 1945.

Oklahoma To Test Tiger Line

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Missouri's rugged interior line gets a chance to prove its big-league stuff here this afternoon against the Sooners from Oklahoma — currently the national rushing leader.

And by sundown, if anyone's interested, the Missouri Tigers will have qualified to rate the three teams atop the various polls — Maryland, Oklahoma and Michigan — for they will have played 'em all.

Their reaction, of course, would include an extremely fresh appraisal of Coach Bud Wilkinson's ninth football squad — one which many sidelines are comparing favorably with the 1949 Big Red outfit generally conceded to be the masterpiece.

This Saturday, the speedy Sooners will be trying for another link in several of their consecutivity feats. They now have won 25 straight games, have played in 50 Big Seven games in a row without defeat, and have scored in their last 101 games, a string dating back to 1945.

1945 . . . that year, President Franklin Roosevelt died in office, the Japs capitulated, and Missouri won its last football game from Oklahoma. That was a Chauncey Simpson-coached Tiger squad, and the score was 14-6. Last win over O.U. by a Don Faurout team was that 28-0 triumph here in 1941.

Going for the Bengals today will be a rejuvenated offense, hubbed by Jimmy Hunter's quarterbacking touch, and a Tiger line of two-deep proportions that has won plaudits all season for its defensive excellence. The real test Saturday will pit M.U.'s hefties against a swift-hitting Sooner machine that has pumped out 311-plus yards per game rushing this year.

The probable starters:
MISSOURI
D. Sailer (199) L.E. T. Roberts (210)
Woodworth (195) L.T. F. Capla (221)
B. Bollinger (208) L.G. J. Martin (209)
J. Tubbs (202) C. T. Karakas (183)
C. Morris (230) E.G. C. Mehner (228)

North Platte Rambles 34-0

NORTH PLATTE — In spite of two touchdowns being nullified by penalties, North Platte completely dominated play and whopped Lexington, 34-0, to complete the season with a 6-3 record.

Bill Naviaux and Vern Swanson led the scoring attack, each contributing two touchdowns. The other touchdown was added by Dick Sebastian and Jerry Johnson kicked four extra points.

It was the eighth straight loss for Lexington, ending a winless season. North Platte outgained the Lex team, 326 yards to 90, and recovered six Lexington fumbles en route to the win.

North Platte 34, Lexington 0.
North Platte scoring—Touchdowns: Naviaux 2 (38, 13 runs), Swanson 2 (6, 19 runs), Sebastian (30, pass from Rentfro); conversions, Johnson 4.

Miami Squeezes Past Boston College

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fast-stepping Jack Losch broke away for two brilliant first-half touchdowns runs Friday night but it took luck and desperate defensive play for Miami's Hurricanes to salvage a 14-7 victory over Boston College.

Bill Donlan's pinpoint passing enabled the Eagles to dominate the second half, but fumbles by Larry Plenty and Ed DeSilva killed their chances after they had twice driven to first downs inside the Miami 10-yard line.

In the closing moments of a close, tension-packed contest, Boston College finally scored on a 14-yard pass from Donlan to DeSilva, after Plenty had pounced on a fumble at the Miami 17.

Losch, a rangy sprinter on the Miami track team, first showed his heels to the visiting Easterners in a dazzling 73-yard scoring race in the opening period. He had taken a neat lateral from fullback Don Bosseler, who threw the ball as he was going down under a horde of Eagle tacklers.

Midway in the second period, Losch grabbed another pitchout and set sail on a 44-yard touchdown run that left his Eagle pursuers far in his rear. Ed Oliver kicked the extra points after both scores to send Miami into halftime with a 14-0 margin.

Then Boston College began an impressive but futile comeback drive. Fumbles stopped the Eagles after they had driven to first downs on the Miami 5 and 6. Another march carried to a first down at the Hurricane 4, but this time the Miami line reared up to throw Donlan back to the 10.

Boston College scoring — Touchdown: DeSilva (14, pass from Donlan), Conversion—Consineau.
Miami scoring — Touchdowns: Losch 2 (runs, 73 and 44), Conversions—Oliver 2.

West Virginia Forced To Rally To Tip George Washington 13-7

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia's seventh-ranked football team rallied from a 7-0 halftime deficit to grind out a 13-7 victory over a stubborn George Washington team that narrowly missed the upset of the year.

Undismayed by West Virginia's nation-leading offensive record, the underdog GW team took everything the Mountaineers had to offer and then drove all the way to the West Virginia 15 before Tom Domen intercepted a pass to stop the threat a minute before the game ended.

It wasn't until Bobby Moss, a hard-running halfback from Huntington, W.Va., burst 43 yards through the line late in the third period that the Mountaineers began looking like their press clippings.

Up to that time, GW's big, mobile line had been racking up West Virginia when the chips were down. Little Mike Sommer, a 165-pound speedster, had darted 89 yards for the score that allowed GW to leave the field ahead at halftime.

Sam Huff's placekick after Moss' 43-yard run tied the game at 7-7 and the Mountaineers then untied it the hard way, driving 98 yards.

Ex-Federal Man Switched To Private Firm Payroll Without Leaving Desk

... Probers Hear Former 'WOC'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional investigators received testimony Friday that a former government official switched from his Commerce Department job to a private industry payroll without leaving his desk.

Frederick F. Franklin testified he quit his $10,800-a-year position with the National Production Authority in October 1952, and took a $12,500-a-year job with the Vanadium Corp. of America, headquartered in New York.

However, Franklin said he remained in Washington with NPA as assistant chief of its ferro-ally section, and later as chief, until April, 1953.

$300 Expenses

During this time he said he drew up to $300 a month expense money from the company in addition to his salary.

Franklin testified before a House Judiciary subcommittee which is studying the activities of businessmen serving the government "without compensation." Such executives are known as "WOC's." The probe is aimed at finding out the extent of any conflict between private interests and government duties.

Franklin, now Vanadium's district manager at Cleveland, O., said the company instructed him, when he first became a WOC, not to report any NPA information to Vanadium that was not available to other companies.

Committee lawyers questioned Franklin about correspondence he had as a WOC with W. C. Keeley, president, and Gustav Law, a vice president, of Vanadium.

Chrome Ore

Franklin testified that the letters he wrote to Law and Keeley added up to request for advice on handling a chrome ore situation in which he said Vanadium's interests and those of other ferro-ally companies in the nation coincided.

He said he consulted officials of other companies on the problem but couldn't recall writing them any letters about it.

BIG MARIJUANA CACHE FOUND IN DEPOT LOCKER

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A cache of marijuana reportedly worth several thousand dollars, was uncovered from a public locker at the Burlington Depot in Lincoln, it was revealed Friday.

Burlington Special Agent Al Hartman took the four packages of the bulk hemp into custody after it was positively identified. The cache was discovered by Harvey Livingston of 3319 Apple, the baggage agent who emptied the locker.

Public locker regulations require the compartments to be checked and emptied every 36 hours, to permit their use by other customers.

Sweetish Odor

Livingston told Hartman he emptied the locker, took out a cardboard box inside, and was about to tag it in the baggage room when he noticed the sweetish tobacco odor from the box.

Hartman said the marijuana was cured and cut and wrapped in four separate bundles inside the cardboard box. The separate bundles were about as round as a football and slightly longer.

The cardboard box was wrapped in string and had blankets stuffed over the marijuana on top and bottom. Two toothbrushes and a nearly-used tube of tooth paste also were found inside.

Federal Agents Called

Hartman said federal narcotics agents, from the Omaha office, have taken over investigation of the case.

Hartman said marijuana grows wild in many parts of Nebraska, and the cache found may be of this variety. He said, however, this would not be known until closer examination by narcotics experts.

"On the black market, marijuana 'reefers,' or cigarettes, sell for anywhere from 25 cents each to $1, depending on the quality, authorities said. Sometimes they said, three parts of marijuana are mixed with one part regular tobacco.

The cache found in the Burlington locker weighed around 10 pounds and could be used for making several thousand 'reefers.'

There was no address on the box to indicate whether it had been mailed before being placed in the locker. The box and its contents were being checked for fingerprints.

Hobo Jungle Death Brings Guilty Plea

Showing scars of a fight that ended in death for a companion, Ivy Frank Otwell, 50, from Monroe, La., appeared in Lancaster District Court Friday and pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

Otwell was charged with the Oct. 12 death of Tony L. Clements, 48, of Little Rock, Ark., whose body was found in a hobo jungle west of Lincoln.

The defendant, who waived preliminary hearing Oct. 25, admitted in court that he had been drinking, got into a fight, and struck Clements with a board. An autopsy showed Clements died from a fractured skull.

Judge Paul White accepted Otwell's plea and deferred sentencing pending a pre-sentence investigation report to the court. Maximum penalty is 10 years imprisonment.

Sargent-Taylor Toll Charges Dropped

Telephone subscribers at Sargent and Taylor will be able to call back and forth without paying long distance tolls, under State Railway Commission action reported Friday.

The Nebraska Central Telephone Co. of Gibbon operates at Sargent, and received permission to raise its Sargent business rate one dollar per month to offset discontinuance of toll charges between the two communities.

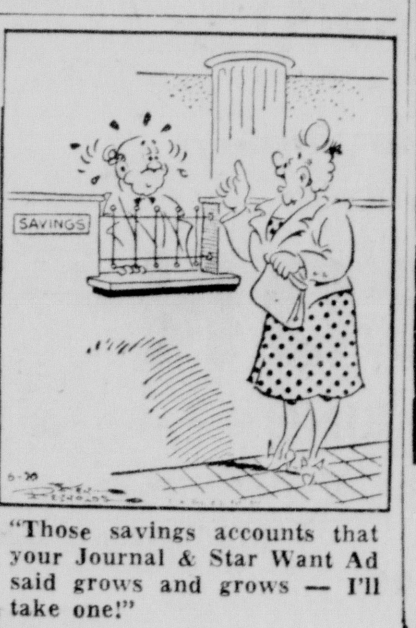

The Rodeo Telephone Membership Corp. of Burwell serves Taylor.

The change is effective upon conversion of the Taylor exchange to dial service.

$4,300 Personal Injury Suit Filed

Kosmet Action Said Sign Of 'Gulf' At NU

Student Paper Comments On Ban

The ban on future performances of the Kosmet Klub fall revue was cited Friday by the University of Nebraska student newspaper in an editorial as "evidence of the ever-widening breach between the University administration and the students here at Nebraska."

The editorial referred to action of the faculty committee on student affairs, which voted to ban indefinitely any further performances of the Kosmet Klub Revue for what it called "very questionable taste" in a performance a week ago.

The faculty group did have cause to take action against the show, presented annually by the men's organization, the Nebraskan editorial agreed.

However, it said, alternative solutions could have been reached and the action could have been less hasty.

Dr. A. C. Breckenridge, University dean of faculties, said in regard to the Nebraskan's statement that it would not be fair for Kosmet Klub to have to appeal to the same group which made the decision.

He said he thought there was "no reason to be alarmed" over the "temporary ban." The fall show has already taken place. "There'll be a good many months to get things straightened out," he said.

The editorial stated that many University students are "just plain mad" at the administration, not only because of the Kosmet Klub ban but because of other restricting actions of the administration which the Nebraskan feels have not been sufficiently explained.

Other incidents mentioned were the stiffened liquor enforcement rule, suspension of students in last spring's panty raid, and the decision to shorten the two-week final examination period to one week.

Students "deserve to know just why the administration does what it does," the paper commented.

Dr. Deal 'Good'

Dr. Roy W. Deal, 66, of 5334 Madison, professor of psychology at Nebraska Wesleyan University, was reported in good condition Friday at Bryan Memorial Hospital. He suffered a fractured rib, bruises and abrasions in a two-car accident at 21st and A Thursday night.

Bender Says Ike Will Run

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) said Friday he is confident President Eisenhower will run again, but two Republican governors said they wouldn't make a guess either way.

One of the two, Gov. Walter J. Kohler of Wisconsin, said he will become a "favorite son" candidate if Eisenhower doesn't indicate by March 2 he is willing to take the nomination again.

The other, Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, said his state's delegation at the 1956 convention will be for Eisenhower if he is a candidate, but otherwise will "look around."

Bender said that Eisenhower could take it easy in the campaign, that he could win without making a single speech.

Bender, who will be up for reelection next year, also predicted that if Eisenhower runs, the Republicans will sweep the country.

Closer Relations With Allies Is Urged

... Scottish Rite Hears Simmons

Closer relationships with friendly nations were emphasized by Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court as speaker at the 102nd reunion banquet of the Lincoln bodies of Scottish Rite Freemasonry.

Some 800 Scottish Rite Masons attended the banquet Friday night when the 58 new members of the "Atoms for Universal Peace" class were honored after receiving the 31st and 32nd degrees earlier.

Judge Simmons, a 33-degree Mason, suggested students and visitors from these friendly nations be given by American hospitality a closer view of our way of living, business, industry, society and democratic government.

Lorenz N. Ress of Lincoln, state engineer, was elected president of the new class by its membership. L. Harold Hamlin of Lincoln was named secretary-treasurer and Charles E. Thone of Lincoln, class orator.

Edward W. Harlammert, member of the Scottish Rite for 32 years, was presented a jeweled double-eagle pin for his many years of service.

The 80-year-old Lincoln man is the oldest active participating member of the Rite's organization of Tilers.

Banquet dignitaries included Joe W. Seacrest, 33-degree Mason and Sovereign Grand Inspector General for Nebraska, heads of the Scottish Rite bodies in Lincoln, and heads of other consistories.
